

Interfaith banner from www.karunaarts.com

Steven Greenebaum's Services – January to May 2009

Interfaith Community Church
1763 NW 62nd Street Seattle
All services: 10:00 AM
206-783-1618

www.interfaithcommunitychurch.org

“Promoting Enduring Daily Interfaith Cooperation”

January 25th – I Have A Dream

This week marks the celebration of Martin Luther King Jr. and the inauguration of our first African-American President. We remember Dr. King's forging of daily interfaith cooperation into a Civil Rights Movement, as well as his dream and our future.

February 22nd – The Interfaith Life

What calls us to worship together? What feeds us when we worship together? What exactly IS an Interfaith Life?

March 22nd – Spring Has Sprung

Spring is a time of renewal: new flowers, new hopes, new dreams. We take a moment to catch our breath, celebrate our wonderful planet, and contemplate living in harmony with the earth and each other!

April 26th – The Shoah, An Interfaith Remembrance

April 21st is Holocaust Remembrance Day. Why say Shoah and not Holocaust? What do we remember of the Shoah? What do we want to remember? What do we teach our children?

May 24th – That These Dead Shall Not Have Died In Vain

This Memorial Day weekend, we reflect on the battles we have fought, large and small. We remember those who have fallen, and contemplate a world where we have truly beaten our swords into plowshares.

Steven's website www.livinginterfaith.org is a wonderful way to introduce friends and family to what interfaith can mean.